ECLECTIC SUMMER HOTSPOTS IN PARIS: THE NEW WAVE

Sunbathed terraces, new food scene, quality drinking, open air parties, live DJ sets, activities for the families, all week and weekend long, for you to enjoy Paris like locals do, this Summer, in these exclusive new venues in town

Paris finally feels like Berlin, New York and London. A creative city where new hotspots appear every week! Let's take a tour of the latest venues open just for the summer or right in time for this beautiful season.

The Seine Banks, the new place to be

The birth of the pedestrian-only Seine riversides, in 2014 for the Left bank and in 2017 for the Right bank, called Paris Rives de Seine, was a catalyst for the creation of new concepts of locations on the banks or on barges. La Déesure Sur Seine, a large trendy BBQ terrace, restaurant and bar, for 30-something Parisians, and Maison Maison, a small gourmet terrace facing the Seine as well, are the new foodie additions on the banks for the Summer. Remaining on the Right bank, on the West side of Paris, Monsieur Mouche, a posh barge with live DJ sets and an amazing view on the Eiffel Tower, is open... when the weather is nice!

The Rise of Life Spaces

These are eclectic venues where you can do pretty much everything from eating, partying, enjoying cultural events, shop, chilling with your family and friends. Northern Paris is at the forefront of hosting these new places. The Mob Hotel, in the famous flea market Puces de Saint-Ouen, is more than just your average hotel with rooftops, terraces, restaurant/brunch & bar, concept stores, grocery store, vegetables garden. It also boasts an outdoor place that can turn into a concert or a movie hall. Le Hasard Ludique, built in an old train station, is a true living space in the 18th arrondissement, hosting a range of events from concerts and vintage shopping, to a creative restaurant and DJ sets. In the West, the Summer House in a town house with a beautiful garden hosts a Summer of US pop culture events (music, food, art)!

Finally in Southern Paris near Gare de Lyon, you'll find Ground Control, the mother of Paris outdoor life spaces with food trucks, pétanque fields, bars, DIY activities & the «largest terrace of the summer».

Pop-up terraces, basic but trending hype

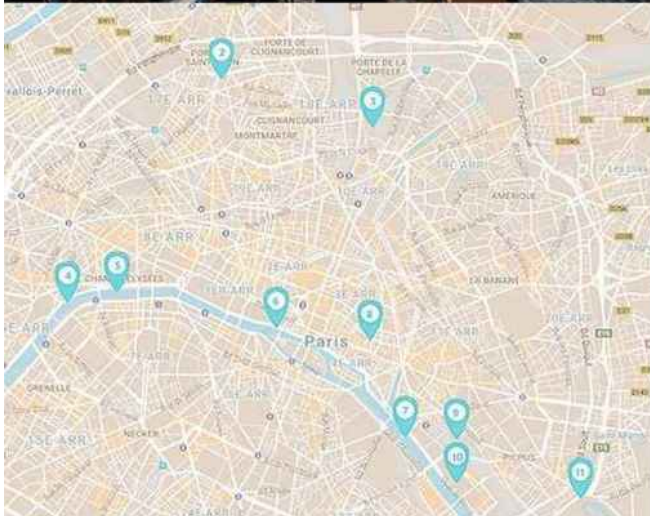

Although this rather sounds obvious, terraces are definitely a summer most-have that we surprisingly lacked of before. Artisanal brewery Deck & Donohue with a sunbathed terrace, Le Palais de la Porte Dorée with Palazzo, the Jacquemart-André museum and its hidden patio and finally your Thursday afterwork party on your music & lively terrace Le Papa Cabane know it best!
